rAgent™ Mobile

rAgent™ Mobile is an application for RFID and barcode-enabled mobile devices that improves your item and inventory management processes by increasing the quality of your data and saving you valuable time. Since its introduction in 2010, rAgent™ Mobile has been available either as a stand-alone edition used to perform tasks on a single device, or as an enterprise edition supporting a fully encrypted synchronization process between all of your devices and an enterprise class database.

rAgent ™ Mobile Brings True Mobility to the Enterprise Application

rAgent ™ Mobile seamlessly integrates with rPlatform™ and rInsight™ by leveraging best-in-class embedded database and synchronization technologies. rAgent ™ Mobile takes full advantage of enhanced hardware capabilities and storage capacities of mobile devices, making enterprise database portability a reality. Now you can collect and process large amounts of data away from your network, and synchronize that data when connections to your enterprise database become available.

rAgent ™ Mobile Brings Enterprise Workflows and Data to Mobile Devices Not Previously Available

rAgent ™ Mobile's unique approach overcomes government and healthcare restrictions on wireless and radio communications that in other cases would severely limit the utility of mobile devices. rAgent™ Mobile extends the enterprise with a high-capacity embedded database and selectable synchronization modes specifically designed to work around these RF restrictions.

rAgent ™ Mobile moves beyond web-based mobile applications that require continuous network connections, eliminates workflow disruptions from loss of connection in warehousing and supply chain operations, and supports mobile label printing.
